Doctoral Students' Research Circle of the Faculty of Modern Languages
at the University of Warsaw cordially invites to the first conference entitled

TRANSGRESSION – INTERDYSCYPLINARITY – DISCOURSE PARADIGMS OF MODERN LANGUAGE STUDIES

which will be held in Warsaw on 13th and 14th February 2016.

The Research Committee:

prof. dr hab. Maria Dakowska – The Institute of English Studies (The Dean of the Faculty of Modern Languages UW)
prof. dr hab. Robert Małecki – The Institute of German Studies UW prof. dr hab. Zofia Marzec – The Institute of Iberian Studies UW
prof. dr hab. Izabella Zatorska – The Institute of French Studies UW

Conference Scope:

We would like to invite conference participants to consider and discuss a broad scope of topics related with modern language research, including linguistics, didactics and literary studies. Both traditional and innovative approaches to the suggested interest fields are welcome and we hope to share the knowledge and expand the horizons of Polish research of modern languages.

Interest fields:

- Between Literature and Philosophy
- Didactics – Glottodidactics - Teaching
- Barriers – Stereotypem - Exclusions
- Multiparadigmatic Approach
- Communication
- Individualism – Conformism - Contestation
- Discourse – Analogy - Confrontation
- War – Peace - Revolution

Participants:

We would like to invite both doctoral students and students working towards their MA degree to share their research results.

Language:

In order to unify the community of young philologists we suggest giving the presentations in Polish. However, there will be a possibility to use a different language if needed.

Papers:

The time allocated for papers is 20 minutes with additional 10 minutes for questions from the audience and discussion about the presented points.

Conference Fee:

None

Publications:

After the conference selected papers (about 25 000 characters long) will be published in a peer-reviewed post-conference volume. The language of the paper is discretionary.

Applications:

Application forms with optional abstracts of papers (In Polish or English) in the range of 250-300 words should be submitted by e-mail to: konferencja.doktorantow2016@gmail.com by November 30th, 2015.

Notifications of acceptance will be sent by December 15th, 2015 together with a detailed schedule of the conference.
